

THE MISOTHEIST MANIFESTO

Part Three

(Abridged Version)

We are on the titanic and we are seeking while eating and drinking. And guess what? It is not even good food! If the Holy Bible was right about one thing it is that when you drink wine it shall be bitter now. It's pretty damn bitter. Not to mention the declining quality of life, that's what I mean. Our coffee makers in the 50's lasted more back then than they do now. That 'fresh' scent that comes from opening that Apple product is now diminished.

Not only to add, it's intrinsic and instrumental value is deprecating everyday. So everything technically is getting worse because we accept less but it has a hyperinflated value. That's why everything is more expensive. Some attribute this to the downfall of capitalism, particularly of the American taste. Richard Wolff and other progressive, liberal and socialist economists and sociologists blame capitalism for alot of the ills in our society.

There are only partially valid. There are many reason why we are in the state that we are in but there is a bigger picture. One of the main reasons is the centralization of power into the hands of the few, i.e. a oligarchy. Not necessarily white privilege or some other red herring. If the European race was really the origin of true and objective suffering, then there wouldn't be any homeless white people.

Racism is a problem in the U.S. but it has nothing to do with current socioeconomic development and deprecation and if you think so, quite frankly you are a fucking idiot. Race has nothing to do with capitalism or communism. If America was 100% black and the white race was extinct then we would be in the exact same situation. In the current (and please emphasize current situation) in the U.S.A, the only discriminatory thing to truly worry about is classism.

There are poor niggers and poor crackers. The white trash in the South are just as disenfranchised as the coons in the ghettos. If you want to blame the European race for something, please blame them for letting their own civilization that they built collapse. That is suicide. All of the minorities that live in majority white America suffer because whites in the Government allowed for the downfall of Western Civilization.

Republican and Democrat.

Of course it's all races but in Europe where majority whites live, those white people have allowed their doomsday to occur.

I am somewhat biased. But the EU is a complete failure. If life was an exercise in absurdism, then this would take the cake. Life truly is an absurd thing. The worship of death is the most absurd of all.

Death is a common theme amongst the youth, ironically, as Zoomers (Gen Z) are the most promising in their demise. From midwestern rappers singing about suicide, popping pills, and depression to the east coast rappers screaming about Hoovers, Billies, Crips, Bloods, mass murder and extreme violence.

This isn't necessarily a racial thing, as alot of these people are white, but it does say about our 'future'. They say the youth is our future, but they are unwelcome by the gates of life. Maybe it is the chemtrails or vaccines but whatever the hell it is, it is most certainly leading to the downfall of Western Civilization which has had some beautiful things attached to it unlike now.

Maybe this is the reason why people don't believe in a God and yes, I am speaking from the inside-out and not an outsider looking inside. It is quite clear that a God or Satan doesn't exist because of the issues I brought up in this document. If it doesn't quite stick there then I suggest doing some research into Atheism and Agnosticism, because there are amazing arguments to be made against the idea of a sky daddy watching over you.

FIN.